Most small businesses can not afford a full time CFO, but all small businesses can benefit significantly by having a trusted partner to help manage and grow the business. The primary benefit of this service is that it allows the business owners to concentrate on what they do best. As a part time CFO I can take care of financial and administrative issues that distract the business owner from the principal and most rewarding aspects of their business.

On a regular basis we are here to review the financial transactions and supply timely and vital information and analysis for the effective management of the business. On a project basis we can be available to take care of activities like system review, planning, budgeting, tax and regulatory compliance that can be complicated if you only do it on an annual basis.

This solution offers many advantages, including:

- Experienced CFO that can impact at the strategic level.
- Flexibility in support levels depending on the need.
- Partnering with senior management allows managers to concentrate on their business.
- Work with business owners to manage their accounting and finance departments.
- Provide financial data to help make strategic long-term plans and day-to-day decisions.
- Work at client location to better serve and understand the needs of the business.
